Joel 2:29-30

“Where is your faith?” he asked his disciples. In fear and amazement they asked one another, “Who is this? He commands even the winds and the water, and they obey him.” NIV

Have you ever been worried before? Probably not, right? I can’t imagine people would ever harbor any sort of worry or anxiety. But then again, I’ve been wrong before...

You know, when I think about it a little harder, I think I actually have heard people express anxiety over different things and say they were worried once or twice in life, and, well, if I’m being honest, this may shock you but, yeah, I’ve been worried before, too.

I had dinner with a friend this week who’s harboring a lot of concerns about his life, his children, his future, his children’s future, and it was clear that he was focused on the storms that surround his life. I shared the story from this week’s scripture with him, and encouraged him to learn from what the disciples discovered; that when you focus on the wind and waves outside the boat, life can be rough, but when focus on who’s in the boat with you - namely Jesus - you’ll have an easier time knowing peace. We’ll talk more this weekend.
