

Galatians 5:25

Since we live by the Spirit, let us keep in step with the Spirit. NIV

Have you ever been in the drive-thru line and when the time comes to pull out your cash and pay for your meal, the cashier says, “No need to pay! The person in front of you paid for your meal.” That’s always nice, isn’t it? Do you enjoy the free gift, or keep the chain going by paying for the next person? I like to keep it going, if I can. A random act of kindness goes a long way, doesn’t it? So long in fact, at one particularly McDonalds location in southern Indiana, that the random act began around 3:00 in the afternoon and last well into the night, up until the store’s closing. However, there was almost a break in the chain when a fellow who was just there for a cup of coffee learned that the car behind him had four extra value meals on their ticket. When he declined to pay for the car behind him, the restaurant employees wanted to keep the chain going, so between themselves and the coffee customer, everyone donated a bit here and there until they raised the $29.00 necessary to pay for the car behind them. After that, there were no “kinks in the chain” until the restaurant closed that evening.

Random acts of kindness can be encouraging and can inspire similar acts from others. However, for the Christ follower, kind acts shouldn’t be random, but should be on full display as the fruit of his Spirit in our lives. We’ll chat a little more about that on Sunday, hope to see you then!
