From John 15:5

"Yes, I am the vine; you are the branches... For apart from me you can do nothing." NLT

I have a question for those of you who were part of the church when it still met on Grandview Rd in town. What was it like when you guys began the transition from Grandview to New Heights? Having never been a part of a building transition before, I can only imagine what that must have been like. I was, however, sort of a part of one by marriage. When Jess and I started dating, her home church where her father pastored was just beginning to discuss the fact that they were outgrowing their space. There were several options being discussed about what the church might do. Do we build on? Buy more land? Add another service (they were already up to 3) or do they build something entirely new. In the end, they went with the latter option, and over the course of the next couple of years, I remember visiting as they transitioned from their first building, to the local high school cafeteria (where my wife ate all of her meals as a student), to finally the once upon a time golf course now turned church. It was a really neat process to watch, and it was a great reminder that when we partner with Jesus, nothing is impossible for us. That's what we'll be talking about this Sunday, so I hope that you will plan to join us as we keep looking into the book of Luke!
