Luke 14:34

"Salt is good for seasoning. But if it loses its flavor, how do you make it salty again?" NLT

When I was about ten years old, my grandmother took my brother and I on a trip to the Florida; it was the first time I had ever been. The trip included some excellent stops, such as Great-Grandma's house, a cool toy store, Walt Disney World, and the Gulf of America (then named "Gulf of Mexico"). I remember very vividly much about the entire trip, including pretending that I was too cool to have my picture taken with any of the Disney characters, until that is the Ninja Turtles showed up, but I digress.

One thing I'll remember forever is swimming in the Gulf and the taste of that water. Not that I was going out of my way to drink it, but swim in natural water and when the wind picks up, you're gonna drink some of it. I remember telling Grandma that it tasted like Lays Potato Chips. I'm not sure that I would have tasted more salt if I'd chugged a salt shaker! "Can water really be this salty?" I wondered to myself. Well, it turns out the answer is yes, and so can you! And we should be as well. May sound a little strange, but join us at New Heights Sunday and we'll go through it together. See you then!
