

Phillipians 2:6-7

Though he was God, he did not think of equality with God as something to cling to. Instead, he gave up his divine privileges; he took the humble position of a slave and was born as a human being.” NLT

I have a theory that I'd like to posit this Easter Sunday - and I could of course be wrong; I've been wrong before, you know. I used to think that "Double Jeopardy" meant back to back episodes of America's favorite quiz show. Anyway, my theory is that when we're afraid, the thing that really makes us fearful is the idea of not being in control of what's happening. Weeks ago, we took our junior high kiddos to sled at a nearby sledding hill. I wouldn't go down myself because I was completely at the mercy of the tube, the hill, and gravity. The latter of which has seldom been my friend, but I digress.

Maybe part of the reason Jesus embraced the cross as he did - confidently and with great success - is because the whole time, despite everything that was happening to him by others - Jesus was really in control. It may not have looked like it, but Jesus was actually the one calling the shots. Come see us this weekend at New Heights and we'll get into it! See you then! - Zach
